About AID

The Association for Industrial Development (AID) is an industry association headquartered in Nagpur, dedicated to facilitating collaboration among various stakeholders, including industry associations, educational institutions, and budding entrepreneurs, to drive industrial growth and economic development in the Vidarbha region.

AID is conceptualized by Shri Nitin Gadkari, Hon'ble Union Minister for Road Transport & Highways, Government of India.

Founded in 2023, AID is a non-profit organization committed to accelerating Vidarbha's industrial growth by showcasing the region's strengths and attracting investments.

Advantage Vidarbha, in its second edition, continues its journey as a premier platform for fostering industrial development, business opportunities, and investments in Vidarbha a part of Maharashtra, India. Organized under the aegis of "Khasdar Audyogik Mahotsav" by The Association for Industrial Development (AID), the event seeks to build upon the success of the inaugural edition, promoting Vidarbha's emergence as a global hub for innovation, enterprise, and industrialization.

With a focus on showcasing Vidarbha's strategic advantages, thriving sectors, and immense growth potential, the summit aims to attract national and international stakeholders, including policymakers, investors, industrialists, entrepreneurs, and academicians.
